Prestige The Man Store began its journey in 1956 on Bangalore's iconic Commercial Street as Prestige House for Men, founded by Razack Sattar in a modest 600-square-foot space. What started as a destination for fine tailoring soon became a trusted name for craftsmanship, elegance, and timeless menswear. Today, Prestige has evolved into a 20,000-square-foot sartorial destination spread across seven curated floors, led by the vision of Noaman Razack under Prestige Fashions Pvt. Ltd. While our ready-to wear collections continue to grow in sophistication and diversity, bespoke tailoring remains at the heart of who we are. For generations, gentlemen have come to Prestige not just for clothing, but for garments crafted with character, precision, and enduring style — pieces made to be worn, remembered, and passed on.

HADA – Suits, Bandhgallas, Jackets, Trousers

Six Years of Timeless Craftsmanship

Six years ago, HADA was introduced as Prestige The Man Store's in-house label with a vision to create a refined bespoke experience that blends contemporary style with timeless craftsmanship. Today, it has grown into a trusted name for premium tailored suits, jackets, trousers, bandhgalas, and bundis.

Derived from the Japanese word meaning "skin" or "surface," HADA reflects closeness, refinement, and meticulous attention to detail. Inspired by Japanese calligraphy, clean typography, and the sakura flower, every collection embodies understated luxury, premium fabrics, and impeccable tailoring—designed for the modern gentleman.

From structure to detail,
every form begins to evolve.
